

Species seen today

- Stinkhorn
- Stump Puffballs - a group near the start
- Silverleaf - on a fallen branch
- Dead Person's Fingers - on a fallen branch
- Candlesnuff
- Common Earthballs - loads
- Common Puffball
- Clustered Toughshank
- Wood Woollyfoot
- Deceiver
- Ochre Brittlegill - in bits
- Red-cracked Bolete - plenty
- Brown Birch Bolete - one only
- Deer Shield - in bits
- Fly Agaric - one only
- Tawny Grisette - a couple
- Jelly Ear
- Hairy Curtain Crust
- Blushing Bracket
- Stinking Dapperling - one only
- Lilac Bonnet - one only

Other species incl various Mycenas (Bonnets), a group of small Cup fungi, a greenish capped Russula (Brittlegill) which had very crumbly gills (possibly Fragile Brittlegill?)

a young white Amanita (possibly Death Cap or False Death Cap?). A number were taken away so I didn't get the opportunity to later study the tricky ones, maybe just as well !

Another lovely event, some good fungi & a nice group of attendees.